

Flinders Ports grants tradition continues

Young people in Flinders will continue to receive financial travel assistance, thanks to the generosity of Flinders Ports.

Grants of up to $100 are available for young people to help with travel expenses incurred when accessing development programs in education, sport, personal interest, arts, work experience etc

The grants will continue to be made available by application at the Flinders Electorate Office, with Peter Treloar continuing the tradition set by Flinders Ports and former Member for Flinders Liz Penfold.

“Living on the Eyre Peninsula should not limit the opportunities open to young people, and I hope these grants will help many young people realise their dreams,” Mr Treloar said.

Applicants must be between 10 and 18 years of age, and be living in the Flinders electorate.

Applications must be lodged two weeks prior to travel, detailing why they are going, what they hope to learn/achieve, and why they should receive assistance.
